THE CHILDREN OF TO-DAY.

It is supposed by most people that the children of the present day and generation are more favored and more abundantly blessed with good gifts than those of any other epoch in all the world's history.

They are the objects of our greatest care and solicitude; everything we can think of is done for their welfare. We are ready to try anything that promises to benefit or bless those who will take up the world's progress where we lay it down. The hope of the future rests with the children, and it is our duty to equip them in a manner calculated to realize that hope. Granted, the hope of the race does rest with the young. It is our duty to prepare them for active, useful, vigorous lives. The question in my mind is, Are we doing it?

I expect I shall get myself disliked if I say no. Nevertheless I say it.

We are adopting the Froebelian motto, the cardinal principle of Froebelian teaching, "Come, let us live for our children." But we are not applying it wisely. From the elaborate fooleries of the kindergarten to the modern form of family discipline, where the parent offers his child reasons for desiring obedience, we are pursuing wrong ideas and reasoning from wrong premises. We are, to put it briefly, bringing up a generation of self-conscious, self-important, weak-willed and self-indulgent children, who morally and intellectually have been and are being developed along the line of least resistance morally and intellectually — and physically too.

We are bringing up children whose very "advantages" are going to be a handicap to them in the struggle of life, who are having every atom of "sand" taken out of them—because we are doing for them instead of teaching them to do for themselves; removing obstacles from their way instead of encouraging them to remove the impediment or climb over it unaided.

The children go to the kindergarten to be taught colors and forms and manual dexterity and how to play. I wouldn't give a brass farthing for a child who has to be taught to play. If he is dull that he can not devise his own sports and interest himself, he has either been the victim of the system of training I deplore or he is too stupid for any use. As for teaching the elaborate plaiting and paper snipping and colors, those are things the child finds out unaided in his normal state; they are self-found accessories to his development.

I can not better illustrate my meaning than by quoting the remark of a teacher of the primary grades in one of our city schools. Speaking of the kindergarten-taught pupils she said: "They are the hardest to instruct. It takes a term to get them to apply themselves to anything that requires effort. I reproved one of them the other day for inattention, and the young miss complacently remarked as if the fault were quite wholly mine, 'You don't interest me!' That's it. They've been taught to expect entertainment and amusement, and haven't the faintest idea that any exertion on their part is necessary."

In short, the system of spoon-feeding is begun in the kindergarten—which I'll admit is a safe place for the children, a source of revenue to a number of impudent and deserving young women, and a great relief for mothers imbued with the "let us live for our children" idea who want someone else to do the living while they live for themselves.

The system is continued all along the line. Look at the school text-books in use. Prettily printed and pictured, and calculated to administer instruction in homeopathic dilutions all the way along up. I take up the classics and find anno-tations and references where those I knew thirty-five years ago gave the poets' lines and old Cicero's immortal orations "straight." In short, it seems as if modern pedagogy had set out to find a royal road to learning, and meant the transference of the labor to the teacher from the pupil.

Now it seems to me that education isn't so much to acquire information as it is to bring out certain qualities that only appear as the result of endeavor. Not vicious endeavor, but personal exertion, real hard work. You can pour information into a mind and make it stay there with the assistance of a good memory. But I am too old fashioned to call that education.

Obedience is a word in bad odor with the "live for our children" people. I believe the idea is that the child knows what he wants much better than his parents possibly can, and that it is good for him to have what he wants. If we can not convince him that he doesn't want it, or shouldn't do it, by our eloquence, why he must have his own way and we must shield him from the consequences as much as possible. If he is naughty why we are responsible; it is heredity howling itself, some ancestral trait cropping out. Poor thing, he must be borne with; he can't help it.

The results of the live for the children policy are apparent in the weakness of the youth of the day, who are failures in life because a faulty bringing up robbred them of their stamina and indurance, the courage they ought to have. They lie down where they ought to fight; they give up here they should persevere, they ask aid where they should help themselves. We make them incapable and then send them out into a world that has no use for such as they—a world that rejects them.

Of course this laxness is the reaction—the inevitable reaction—from the sternness and repression of the Puritan age. Then the child called his father "sir." Now he says "old man." Once he obeyed his parents, now his parents obey him. Once he was seen sometimes and seldom heard. Now he is the only one who is heard. Call on a friend and the children entertain you. They interrupt conversation and make imperative demands on their mother's attention while she is striving to converse with you. They are at the theatre before they can see over the top of the seats; they occupy seats in the middle, grown men and women stand; in short, in "the Children's Age" children are the most unamiable, impertinent, intrusive, self-possessed, self-important and obnoxious creatures in it.

DEATH OF JAS. RUSSELL HAWKINS, JR.

We merely announced in our last year the death of our friend, Mr. Jas. R. Hawkins, Jr., and stated that we would give a more extended notice to-day.

Mr. Hawkins was the second son of that honored and beloved physician, Dr. J. Russell Hawkins, sr., was about 65 years of age, and was born in Henrico county, Va.

He was a modest, retiring, Christian gentleman, and everyone who knew him respected and admired his integrity of character and purity of life.

He was a thoroughly cultivated gentleman of the old fashioned sort. Unobtrusive and gentle in his manners, he was known as one of the bulwarks of his community, whom no power of evil could intimidate or cause to swerve from the path of rectitude. His advice and counsel always had weight, and many troubles were quieted and many heartaches soothed by his kindly ministrations.

Always frail and delicate, yet his death was sudden and unexpected. But it found him prepared and undismayed in the presence of the grim messenger. He had been a member of South Benson Baptist Church since his boyhood, and was an office-bearer for years, endeavoring to fill the place of his honored father.

He died as he had lived, with firm reliance upon the saving power of redeeming love.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. M. B. Adams, after which the loved remains were placed in the family lot in our cemetery.

In all the relations of life, whether as son, brother, husband, father or friend, he measured up to the highest standard—an honest man.

He leaves a wife and four children (Mrs. Robertson, of Louisville; Miss Addie, and Messrs. Davis and Joseph Hawkins, of this county); four sisters (Miss Mildred, of Louisville; Mrs. Cunningham, of Louisville; Mrs. Calvert, of Junction City, and Mrs. Stephens, of Boone county); and two brothers (H. Pope Hawkins, of Greenville, Miss., and W. Boles Hawkins, of Corbin, Ky.); and hosts of warmly attached friends to mourn his death. But they "sorrow not as those without hope."

WATCH LOST.

Mr. Joseph Robinson lost his hunting case silver watch on Monday, between the residence of Col. Tom Rodman and the planing mill of Mr. A. Plunkett, on Second and Murray streets. There was a leather guard attached to the watch. Anyone finding same will be suitably rewarded on returning it to the residence of Col. Chas. Newton.

The Cripple

Who is crippled by accident or deformity hardly understands the meaning of the word "cripple" as compared with the victim of rheumatism. He is not only bent and twisted, but also racked with pain so cruel that he envies the cripple who walks along a wooden leg, whining as he goes. Rheumatism is known to-day as a blood disease. It can only be cured through the blood.

That powerful blood-purifying medicine, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

Mr. R. J. McKnight, of Cades, Williamsburg County, B. C., writes: "I have been troubled with rheumatism for twelve years, but at times I could not leave my bed because crippled. Tried all doctors and two of them tried to kill me. None of them did me any good. The pain in my back, hips and legs was so severe that it nearly kill me. My appetite was very bad. Everybody who saw me said I must die. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Discovery, and four vials of 'Pellets,' and to-day my health is good, after suffering twelve years with rheumatism."

The sluggish liver can be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

ADVERTISED LETTERS

We take the following from the Lexington Herald of Tuesday:

Mr. E. C. Hathaway, General Manager of the Lexington Street Railway Company, is in receipt of a letter from the owners of the Houston (Texas) Street Railway Company, tendering him the position of manager. The offer came unexpectedly and from persons unknown to him. Since Mr. Hathaway has taken charge of the new company, he has become known throughout the country as the best man for its size in the United States, and it was through this channel that the offer came.

Mr. Hathaway is held in high esteem by Lexington citizens, and they are glad to know that he did not even consider the offer.

We rejoice to see our friend held in such high esteem, and that he had the good judgment to stay in old Kentucky.

Feelings of safety pervade the household that uses One Minute Cough Cure, the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. It is invaluable for coughs, colds, croup and throat and lung trouble. It will cure consumption. South & Longmoor, W. McKee Hardie.

STOCK SALES.

Mr. H. G. Davis made the following sales of stock this week: 2 shorthorn heifers at $27.50 each; 4 shorthorn heifers at $27.50 each; 4 sheep at $4.75 per head.

Dr. W. H. Lewis, Lawrenceville, Va., writes: "I am using Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in my practice, and find it of great value. Many hundreds of physicians depend upon the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in stomach troubles. It digests what you eat, and allows you to eat all the good food you need, providing you do not over-load your stomach. Gives instant relief and a permanent cure. South Longmoor, W. McKee Hardie.

ZULPAH.

Street Fair over; what next? Guess everybody wants to rest.

Master Warren Green, of Scott, returned to his home last week, after a prolonged visit of five or six months to his uncle, Mr. J. B. Green, of Corbin, again, Warren, the poor cast off and hungry waiting for you to feed it.

There is one widow in our community who didn't attend the street fair. We wonder what was the cause. Can anyone tell us? A prize to the one that guesses the reason.

Rumor says that another one of our local girls with the best future, be married to a young lady of Hemp Ridge. Guess it must be so, as he is seen going that way every Saturday.

Miss Willie Green, of Scott, who has been visiting her cousin, Miss Iva Moore, the past two weeks, returned home Friday.

We are glad to say that we met our friend "Catch'em" at the Street Fair. Our minstrel was still sole to see our friend still in the land of the living. Come, "Catch'em, wash your face and wake up, and let me hear from you. Where have you been? I thought you had had to go to the Christen tree, and forgot to return, or gone home with the widow.

Yes, we saw a fellow at the Street Fair with a new suit on, stepping high, with both eyes open, looking here and there, hunting for his girl. He said she could not be found. He had been hunting for his girl for a week, and had not found her. He was a violin any mortal ever heard, and just to think, this fellow is a widower, but not the one that stayed at home.

CLOSE OBSERVER.

Do not get scared if your heart troubles you. Most likely you suffer from indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will stop it and gives the worn-out stomach perfect rest. It is the only preparation known that completely digests all classes of foods; that is why it cures the worst cases of indigestion and stomach trouble after everything else has failed. It may be taken in all conditions and can not help but do you good. South Longmoor, W. McKee Hardie.

FRANKFORT, OCT. 4, 1890.

HON. JOHN W. YERKES' SPEECH.

Hon. John W. Yerkes, Republican candidate for Governor, came here on Wednesday morning, and was met at the train by a large delegation of our citizens, who escorted him to the Capitol Hotel, where he received a still larger crowd of ladies and gentlemen who called to pay their respects.

At 2 o'clock p.m. Mr. Yerkes was escorted to the Capital Opera House, where a crowd that filled the building from pit to dome greeted him with prolonged applause, the crowd standing and cheering for several minutes.

Col. L. P. Tarlton called the meeting to order and made a short speech, introducing Judge W. G. Bullitt, who in turn made a brief address introducing Mr. Yerkes.

Mr. Yerkes made a brilliant, powerful, eloquent and conciliatory speech, which was greeted with great enthusiasm and frequent cheering.

The meeting was a great success, and the Republicans and Brown Democrats were filled with enthusiasm and encouragement.

The Opera House had been tastefully decorated by a committee of the most charming ladies of our city, and was a veritable bower of fragrance and loveliness.

There were some three hundred ladies who graced the occasion by their presence.

Mr. Yerkes was surprised and gratified at the demonstration, and so expressed himself.

COLD STEEL OR DEATH.

"There is but one small chance to save your life, and that is through an opera. I will give the people a taste before I go." I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge Wis., by his doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't believe in the medicinal power of Electro Bitter to cure Stomach and Liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. Electro Bitter guaranteed to cure Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles, and never disappoints. Price 50¢ at J. W. Gayle's drug store.

A MIDNIGHT BELL."

Charles Hoyt never wrote a better comedy than "A Midnight Bell," and this is saying much for the "Bell." Unlike most of the pieces from his pen, this play has pathos as well as comedy, and the one tends to make the other stand out more prominently. "A Midnight Bell" is being acted at the Lyceum this week by a good company, the members of which present the characters, scenes and incidents as the author intended that they should be presented—in an amusing fashion. They kept the audience is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

It can always be stopped—in the beginning. The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself and at home.

Take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, and live carefully every way.

This is sound doctrine, whatever you may think or be told; and, if needed, will save life.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample. Its agreeable taste will surprise you.

yesterday afternoon and last evening laughing or applauding nearly all the time. Those who have seen the comedy before laughed as heartily as those who saw it for the first time, for "A Midnight Bell" can be enjoyed over and over again, Miss Alice Roseland as the minister's sister, Dot Bradbury, acted and looked the part excellently. Little Little Lawson played the banjo and sang several songs, all of which were highly enjoyed by the Lyceum audience.—Cleveland World, Sept. 4, 1890.

Thirty minutes is all the time required to dye with Putnam's Fadeless Dyes. Sold by South & Longmoor.

OUTRAGE.

Earl Wilson, the colored boy who won the prize ($5.00 in gold) in the wheelbarrow race during the Street Fair, was held up by another colored man on Thursday of last week and told that he must divide his prize with the other racers. Not knowing any better, he gave up the money and was given one dollar only. This outrage needs to be looked into and punished.

No other pills can equal DeWitt's Little Early Risers for promptness, certainty and efficiency. South & Longmoor, W. McKee Hardie.

DON'T FORGET IT.

Mr. F. H. Lundy, representing the well known show house of J. M. Potter, Cincinnati, O., will be at the Capital Hotel on Oct. 8th and 9th, with a full line of Men's and Women's Shoes, and will be pleased to exhibit samples consisting of all the latest fads and fashions for Fall and Winter, 1890, and take orders for single pairs. Do not fail to see this line. "Note the date."

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. It is said that he was taken with Typhoid fever, then ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I could not even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected soon to die of consumption, but I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. On the 1st of Oct. I got a dose of it, and it gave me relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong I can't say too much in its praise. This marvelous medicine is the surest and easiest cure in the world for all throat and Lung Troubles. A regular size 50¢ cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free at J. W. Gayle's Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed.

A PAINTER OF THE INDIAN.

Charles H. Stephens, whose paintings decorates the cover of the October Ladies' Home Journal, is a close artist-student of the Indian and Indian life, and is regarded as a very high authority on all that pertains to the picturesque side of the Red Man. He was formerly an instructor in the Philadelphia Art School, where his most apt pupil in illustration was Miss Alice Barber, who subsequently became his wife, and whose drawings, signed Alice Barber Stephens are the admiration of all lovers of black and white art.

ANOTHER FRANKFORT BOY GETS THERE.

We are more than glad to learn that our handsome young friend, Mr. Ed. P. Bryan, Jr., has been promoted to Live Stock Agent of the L. & N. Railroad at St. Louis, Mo., with a handsome salary attached.

Mr. Bryan is the son of Col. Ed. P. Bryan, sr., now of New York City, and is another illustration of the fact that Frankfort boys always get to the front when they strike out from the old town.

He has been on a visit to his aunt, Mrs. Alex. Grant, in this city, and his host of friends rejoice in his success.

The incidents believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism, will agree that the infliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out the devil. Three weeks ago I had a attack of rheumatism which left me with a bad cough. I took several doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the cough has entirely disappeared. I consider Chamberlain's medicines the best on the market." For sale by J. W. Gayle, druggist.

A CARD.

The manufacturers of Banner Salve have authorized the undersigned to guarantee the following: Use a good soap, wash clothes, let air, use soap, rectifier, salve, and skin diseases. Your money back if it doesn't do all it claims. South and Longmoor, W. McKee Hardie.

HOW IS THIS FOR HIGH?

Mrs. Henry Smith, wife of a tile maker in Miller county, Missouri, gave birth to five baby boys at one time recently. They are reported to be well, and weighed a total of thirty pounds.

Smith, according to reports, has a remarkable family. He has been married less than seven years, and is the father of sixteen children. Only one time has there been born a single baby at a single birth, two pairs of twins, two pairs of triplets and the quintet reported now.

FLOATER FOUND.

On Sunday morning the body of a drowned man was found protruding from under a raft at the saw-mill just below the railroad bridge. Coroner Meagher summoned a jury, who viewed the body and brought in a verdict that death came from accidental drowning, and the decomposed corpse was at once buried.

The man weighed about 140 pounds; was of medium height; had on a good pair of pants, shirt and shoes, denoting that he was a respectable man. One dollar and twenty cents were found in his pockets; his shirt had long link cuff buttons. He had two handkerchiefs, one with the initial 'L' on same.

It is thought that the man was drowned at the mouth of Sturgeon creek, Lee county, in April or May, as a man was lost from a raft at that time and the body was never found.

LATE R.—MESSRS. LILLARD AND CHAS. MATTHEWS, of Swallowfield came here Wednesday and identified the clothing as belonging to Elsie Woodside, of that neighborhood.

IT HEALS THE LUNGS.

When suffering from a hacking cough take a dose of Foley's Honey and Tar. The soreness will be relieved and a warm, grateful feeling and healing of the parts affected will be experienced. South and Longmoor, W. McKee Hardie.

NEW TRIAL REFUSED—APPEAL TAKEN.

On Saturday Judge Cantrell refused James Howard a new trial, and he was sentenced to hang December 7.

An appeal was at once taken and time given until the third week in October to prepare an appeal to the Court of Appeals.

NEW sorghum molasses only 25 cents per gallon at Langdon-Creasy Co.

It is exasperating to one who has had Foley's Honey and Tar and knows what it will do, to have a dealer recommend something else as "just the same" or "just as good." This is nothing just as good for colds, coughs, croup, larygrippe, etc. South and Longmoor, W. McKee Hardie.

PERSONAL STATEMENT.

We have received a communication signed "Legion," asking a place in our column. It relates to matters in one of our city churches, which our judgment, and that of others who are members of that church, dictates had better not be aired in the public prints.

If there are some spots the easiest way for them to be healed is to let them alone. For this reason alone the communication does not appear in our paper.

We decline to let our paper become a vehicle for making church troubles public.

ANOTHER REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF OIL.

The public generally has probably not noticed that there has been a large increase in the production of crude petroleum, and as a consequence the price of this product has been steadily declining for the past two or three months. Naturally this has affected the prices of all products of petroleum, especially refined oils. The Standard Oil Co. have made another reduction in their selling price in Frankfort on refined oils. This is the second reduction they have made in the last ninety days. Their prices to day are: Fire Proof (best oil made), in barrels, 10c per gallon; Prime White Oil, in barrels, 9c per gallon.

CRESTON CLARKE COMING.

"One of the most important bookings of the coming season at the Capital Theatre is that of the distinguished actor Creston Clarke, who will appear here on Thursday evening, October 11, presenting The Lady of Lyons. Mr. Clarke still has the same splendid supporting company, now numbering twenty-five, headed by the beautiful and versatile Miss Adelaide Prince, of whom and Mr. Clarke as well, some are recently wrote as follows: 'Mr. Creston Clarke claims his dramatic inheritance from two of the best known names in American theatrical history. His father was the celebrated comedian, the late John S. Clarke, so well remembered by the older theatre-goers; and on the maternal side he descends directly from the Booths, his likeness to his uncle, Edwin Booth, being most strongly marked. Mr. Clarke has won for himself an enviable position among the leading actors of the day.'

"Miss Adelaide Prince, who is Mr. Clarke's leading lady, has by her charming manner and delicately exquisite art, earned for herself laurels of which she may be justly proud. Her early training has been in the best schools of the drama. Augustin Daly especially engaged her to play seconds to Miss Ada Rehan, with whom she appeared for four consecutive seasons, not only in New York, but also in London and Paris, winning golden opinions from the press of both the new and old world."

The balance of the cast is made up of actors and actresses who are well known to the theatrical public, and are the best that could be procured to support Mr. Clarke and Miss Prince.

A carload of special scenery and costumes will be employed in giving The Lady of Lyons, insuring a perfect production.

"A MIDNIGHT BELL."

The above attraction, which comes to the Capital Theatre Wednesday, October 10, is unquestionably the very best of Hoyt's plays, and is what the author claims it, "a world of fun." It will be produced by a splendid company, headed by Maude Adams. This company carries a carload of special and magnificent scenery.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and your grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or rheumatism. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Green's dietic, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they seek when food is bad and bad with headaches and other aches. There is only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by S. B. Holmes.
